Good Luck
Don't

... Citizens in the Jones Valley High School district were impressive in their behavior following a very tragic fire which destroyed the school.

... When flames came, students, alumni, parents - all felt as if something very personally a part of them was being torn away. The ashes were a terrible legacy.

The spirit shown as substitute classroom measures were taken, however, was one of the sort bringing a renewed faith in our community generally . . . Co-operation offered . . . has been splendid.

... Let it be written very boldly . . . that here had been built something so good, so effective, that when suddenly it was taken away, a tangible void was left in the lives of many good people. The love earned by the school - its heads and teachers - was a product of deep and earnest devotion over many years.

Students Mourn Loss of School

*Lots of Luck

Firemen fight in vain to save Jones Valley from a fire which completely destroys the building early on the morning of November 11.

As Jones Valley burns, Pat Blakey and Dianna Brown exhibit the sorrow felt by students and faculty.

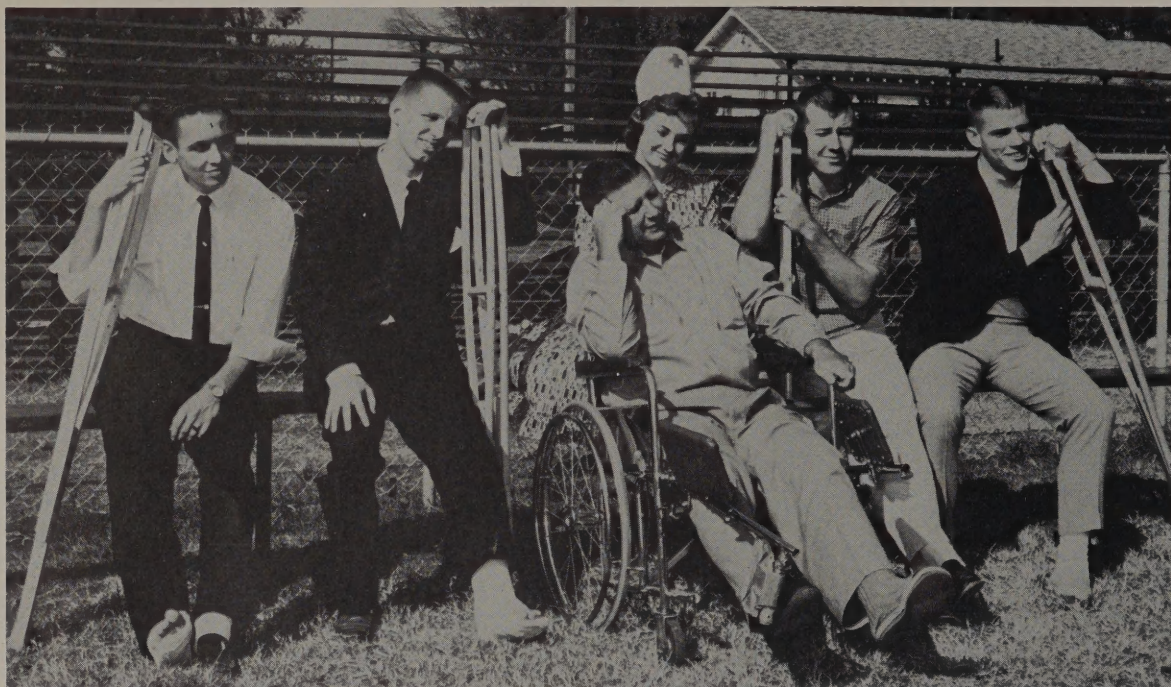

A blackened and hollowed shell is all that remains of the building. In spite of many discouraging reports about rebuilding the school, loyal patrons and students are determined that Jones Valley shall not die.

A Landmark Disappears

'61-'62 — A Year of Adversity

In our second game of the season, four of our players receive serious knee injuries which put them on crutches for the rest of the season. At the same game, an ankle injury confines coach to a wheel chair for several weeks.

David Hudson, Jan Morris, Coach McLain, Mike Robertson, and Stanley Woodruff are consoled by Annette Johnson.

Familiar to all Jones Valley students is the advice and admonition offered by Mr. A. E. Driggers during assembly periods.

Jan Morris, football captain and student body president, escorts Julie McDuff of Fairfield High to the football banquet.

Jackie Bragg's enthusiasm is typical of all the cheerleaders.

and Cherished Memories

As parents meet in a giant rally at Powderly Baptist church, students march around the block to the chant, "We want a school." Each community pledges support.

Because our student body is composed of about 50 per cent county students, the Birmingham Board of Education feels that it is unwise to invest money for a new school in this area. Friends of Jones Valley agree to raise $200,000 to supplement the insurance money.

Mary Rhodes, Ronnie Syphurs, and Mrs. Driggers receive donations for the building.

Patrons Set Goal of $200,000.

Judy Wilson and Michele Rutherford receive donations at one of several roadblocks on the Super Highway.

Other fund-raising activities include box lunches prepared by Volunteers for Valley, Sunday dinners at the lunchroom, Midfield auction, scrap iron drive, alumni parties, Shannon barbecue, homeroom projects, and numerous other projects.

Mayor Hanes Proclaims "Brownie Day"

Mayor Art Hanes proclaims February 17 to be "Brownie Day" - a day when J.V. Brownies soliciting funds will cover the city and county.

Herbert Bingham, Class of '25, and Jackie Traffenstedt, Class of '61, are two of many alumni working to rebuild our school.

City Promises New Jones Valley!

Superintendent Theo Wright, Commissioner of Education Eugene Connor, Principal A. E. Driggers, and Board of Education President T. H. Benners, Jr. give the VICTORY sign as the city pledges to donate the final $100,000 to complete the building fund.

As we go to press, the fund has reached $90,045.

Mrs. Polly Parker, Mrs. Charles Olvey, and Mrs. J. T. Whitten are a few of dozens who work as Volunteers for Valley. They are preparing lists for OPERATION S. O. S. (Save Our School).

Dedication

TO THE FRIENDS OF JONES VALLEY -

Mr. A. E. Driggers,

faculty and students,

parents and alumni,

newspapers,

radio and T. V. stations,

city and county officials,

businessmen of Birmingham - to all those who had a part in giving

Jones Valley back to us, we, the

BROWNIE STAFF of '62, gratefully dedicate this annual.

CURRICULUM

To Vicki, whose pleasant smile and delightful demeanor have helped make Jones Valley an enjoyable place to work. Great good wishes for your future success & happiness.

Sincerely,
 Herb Clark

Spanish II students enjoy their newspaper, LA LUZ, an informative paper written in Spanish.

Spanish has been taught at Jones Valley for 34 years. Students study all phases of the language, including pronunciation and accent.

Students Offered Two Foreign Languages

The use of the tape recorder and record-player is a great help to students studying languages.

Mrs. Marshall helps Diane Buckelew, Sandy Putz, and Roger Hollis with correct French pronunciation.

Although the 8,477 volume library at Jones Valley was destroyed, students are not discouraged. Generous people have donated many books to be used in the temporary J. V. library.

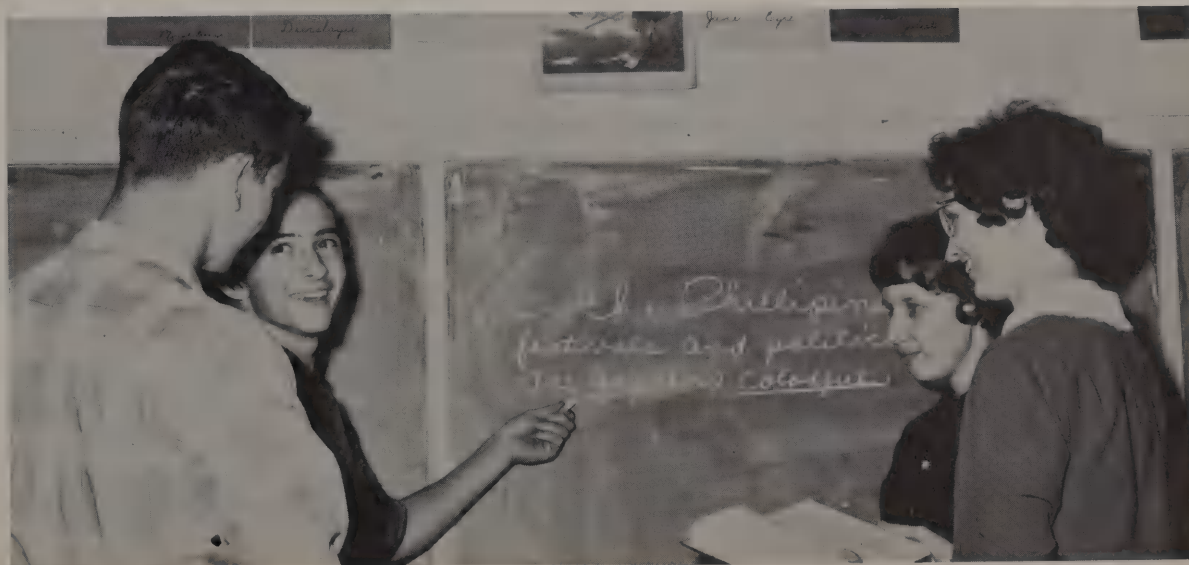

Linda Richards and Doris Guthrie make use of the library for their outside reading.

Library Is Destroyed

"Is it an adverbial objective or a predicate adjective?" "What book are you reading for your book report this six weeks?" These are only a few of the questions that plague seniors in their last year of high school English.

Eldon Morris explains the "how and why" to Pogo Moore, Faye Monk, and Peggy Stokes.

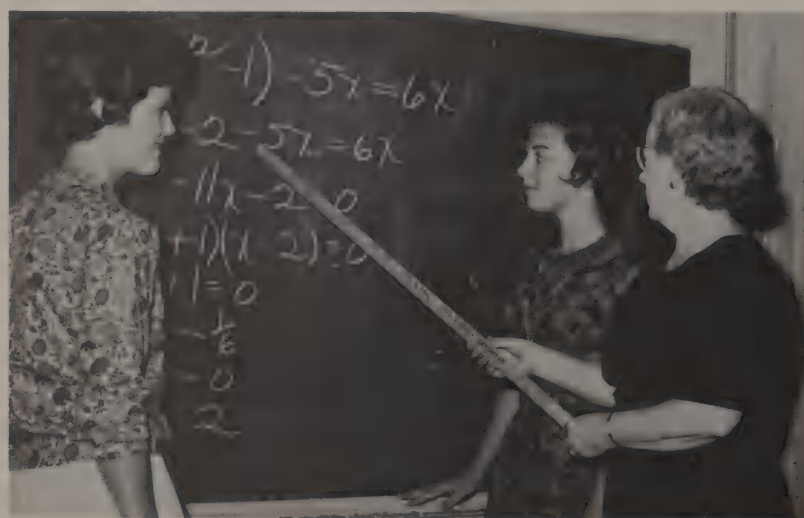

Plane geometry helps students to understand better the design of the world around them.

Bobby Gardiner explains to Alan Keith and Jackie Shields the geometric principle used in constructing a bridge.

College Algebra Now Taught at J.V.

Students at Jones Valley are now offered three years of algebra.

Miss Jaxon shows Louise Arthur and Ann Baggett the correct way to solve an Algebra II equation.

Students studying business math deal with the kind of problems found in everyday business, such as percentages, fractions, and interest rates.

Mrs. Keith helps Jimmy Kendrick and Jerry Smith with some particularly hard problems.

Solid geometry and trigonometry are one-semester courses at Jones Valley, alternating semesters.

Diana Koenig and Robert Hamilton solve a solid problem by the use of geometric figures.

Mrs. Kitchens shows her students a model of the heart in the study of biology.

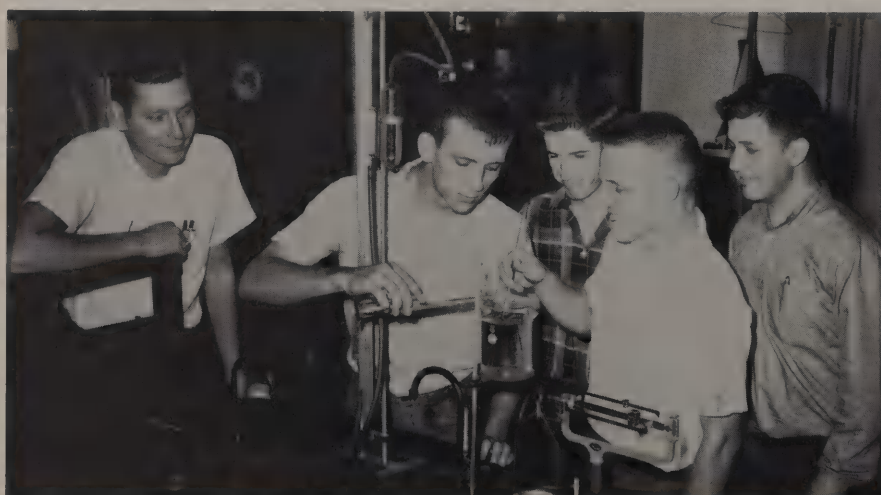

Mechanical drawing and shop are subjects which most boys enjoy.

Mr. King helps Jerry Langston plan his drawing correctly.

As shown by these students, most members of the physics class enjoy going into the lab for experiments.

Roland Collins, Phillip Wickstrom, Don Hampton, and Paul Stokes try an experiment under the watchful eyes of Mr. Clements.

Advanced general science is offered to students who do not wish to take chemistry or physics.

Mr. Clements points out one of the elements of the earth.

Let's see those slide rules sliding!

Students in semesters 5 and 7 are offered courses in chemistry or physics. Not only do they learn the fundamentals of those courses, but the students are taught to use the slide rule.

Bobby Gardiner performs an experiment for Larry Lancaster and Linda Murphy.

American history gives patriotic students a chance to learn about their ancestors.

Students have very spirited panel discussions on American policies.

J.V. students studying speech are given many chances to overcome their fear of speaking before the public.

Economics students study the balance between consumption and production.

Mrs. Reynolds points out some interesting figures on the board to Martha Park, Rodger Denny, and Pat Payne.

World history students study all civilizations in history.

Barry Miller shows interested classmates a remote spot on the map.

History students follow Glenn's flight

Business law gives students a better understanding of their own personal rights.

Buddy Nick, Blowdrift, Carol Lindley, and Linda Hunt read sections from their books to prove their points.

Art students were put under a great handicap by the loss of most of their materials. However, this has not stopped the great work of the J.V. Art Department.

Along with painting and drawing, students make paper mache figures, ceramic work, and their own personalized Christmas cards.

Art students design J.V.'s Christmas Card

Home economics is taught to girls wishing to become better homemakers.

Susan Cox samples some of Linda Findley's and Frances Johnston's cooking. Is it good, Susan?

Girls taking physical education learn many ways to improve their health, both mentally and physically. Along with formal exercises, they play softball, volleyball, basketball, jump on the trampoline, and tumble.

P.E. students take physical fitness tests

"Do we have to dress out?" is the familiar question heard every day in boys' physical education. But it isn't all work and no play as shown by these boys who are enjoying a game of volleyball.

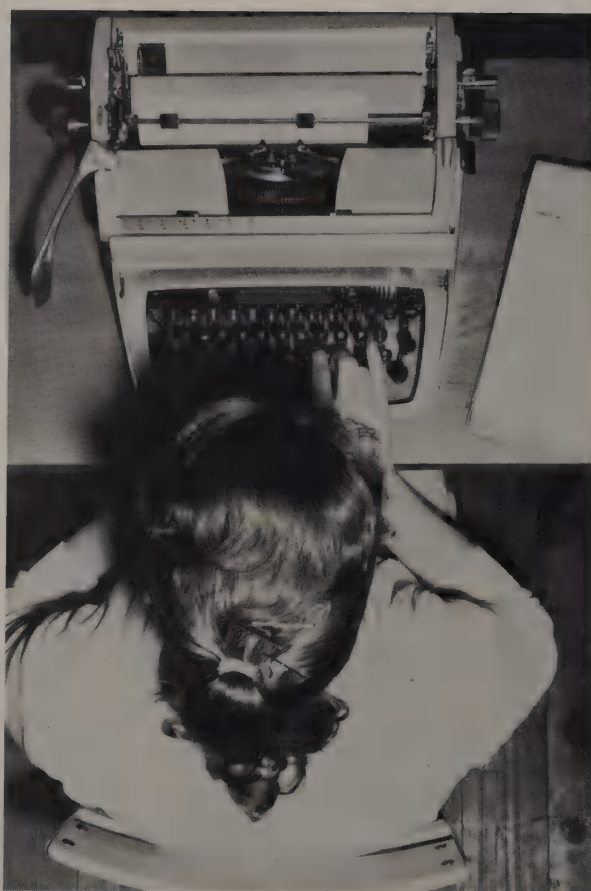

Although having no music room of their own, choral students still manage to make good music.

Mrs. Scruggs gets a section of her classes ready as they practice for the Christmas program.

Typing and shorthand are offered to students wishing to enter the business world, and to those who need them for college note-taking.

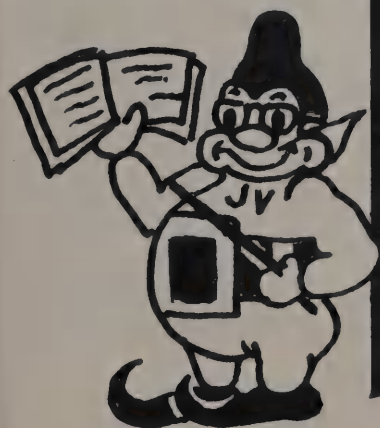

Mrs. Ferguson gives dictation to Paulette Ethridge to help ready her for a fast-talking employer.

ACTIVITIES

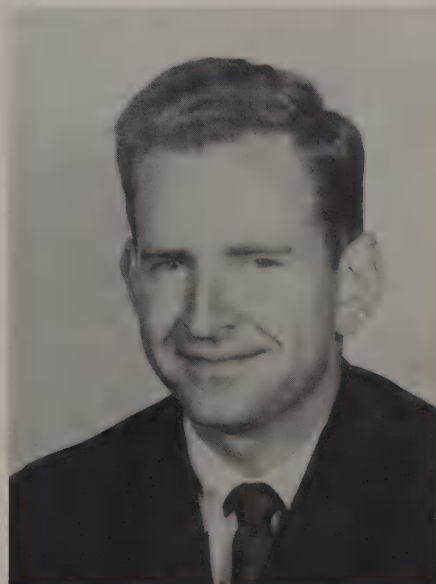

That J.V. Band Spirit

Speaking of conditions after the fire, several band directors have said to Mr. John Davis, "If I were you, I wouldn't try to have a band this year."

The band is separated and regular practice is made almost impossible. One hundred students give up their after-school time to practice from three to four a day several afternoons each week in a stuffy and very cold band hall. Mr. Davis gives freely of his time to help our All-State Band stay alive. This is THAT JONES VALLEY SPIRIT.

Mr. John H. Davis has been the band director at Jones Valley for the past ten years. He received his B.M. and his M.M. at Boston University. He is solo horn player with the Birmingham Symphony.

Baccalaureate

On Sunday, May 27, in the beautiful air-conditioned sanctuary of the Powderly Baptist Church, seniors are led by Rev. Lavelle Kennedy to do some serious thinking about the critical problems which face our nation.

"Where there is no vision the people perish," is an eternal truth. Seniors are challenged to think, to dream, and to dedicate themselves to a greater vision of good government - a government of righteousness, integrity, and fairness. "Find God's plan for your life," says Rev. Kennedy, "and He will grant you the power to conquer."

Valedictorian

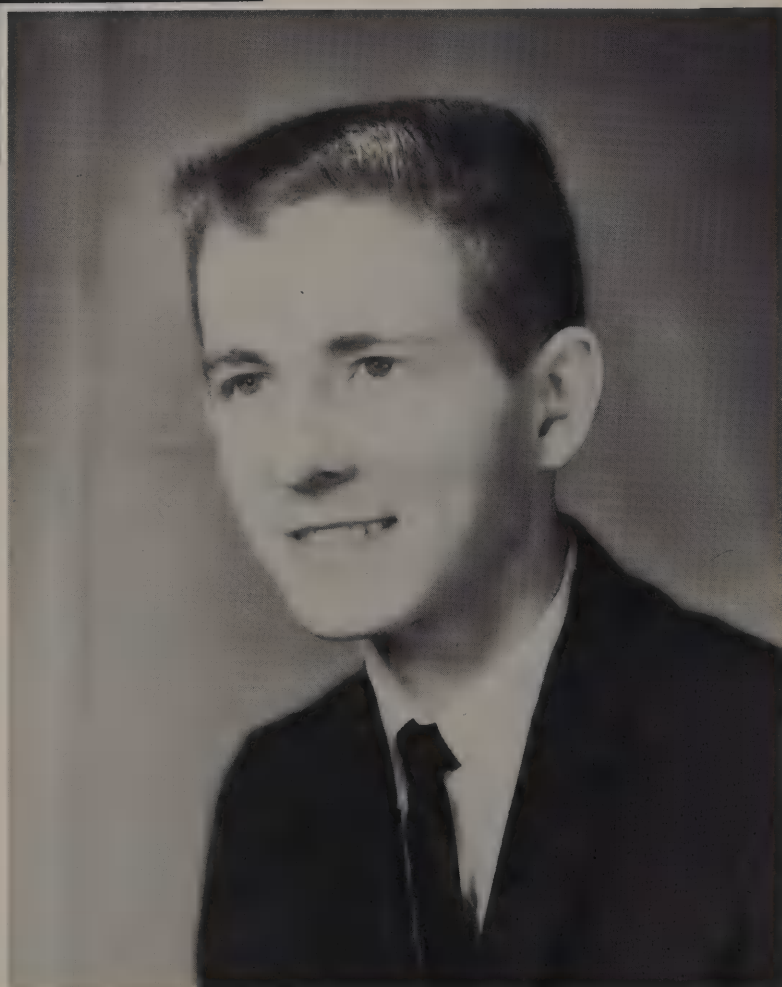

At the end of his seventh semester, Jimmy Fuller ranked in first place with the highest scholastic average—from the ninth through the twelfth grades.

Jimmy takes a college preparatory course consisting of such subjects as chemistry, physics, trigonometry, and advanced algebra.

Tommy Dameron ranks second in the senior class at the end of his seventh semester.

Tommy takes a college preparatory course, also.

Salutatorian

Toni Robertson and Pat Blakey find that graduation is not as joyful as they first thought. David Hudson doesn't seem to mind, however, as he comforts them by lending his shoulder and his handkerchief.

Senior Banquet

Roma Club, scene of the senior banquet, provides entertainment as a "twisting place."

Nick Cottis of Belmont Studio smiles as he gets his first glance at the '62 BROWNIE.

Twilight Time at Senior Prom

April 20 will long be remembered by many as a night of special enchantment. Junior-Senior Prom in the Cloud Room at Cascade Plunge will bring many marvelous memories in years to come.

Elaine Lankford
and Mike Roper think that if
JFK and Company
can twist, so can we.

Let's Twist Again!

Judy Box, Bobby Gardiner, Ricky Satterwhite, and Rose Dodd enjoy refreshments served by Mrs. Burgess and Jackie.

Climaxing the prom was the Grand March, featuring all Seniors and their dates. Leading were: Bill Waldrop, Senior Class Treasurer, and Gail Edmondson; Leonard Brasher and Senior Class Secretary, Linda Gillis; Pogo Moore, Senior Class Vice-President, and Sandra Ballard; Bill Betts, Junior Class President, and Judy Arnold; Robert Hamilton, Senior Class President, and Brenda Brown.

Some enjoy the "Twist," others the foxtrot, but everyone agrees on one thing - the Prom is TOPS!

June Burnett is not "punch drunk." She just gets starry-eyed around Tommy Cox.

Bill Nappi Plays for Prom

Dana Colwell,
Wayne Little,
Janice Little, and
Michael Dainard
leave with regret that a wonderful evening is over.

Leaving the Cloud Room in style are Hobart Shaw, Judy Wilson, Sandra Ballard, and Pogo Moore.

Miss Jones Valley

On May 22, Dianna Sue Brown is crowned "Miss Jones Valley."

She is "Miss Majorette of Alabama," head majorette, and has led the band for 14 years.

DIANE CHASTAIN

First runner-up in the beauty contest, Diane is a sophomore.

LINDA ROCKETT

Second runner-up, Linda is a junior.

JACKIE BRAGG

Third runner-up, Jackie is a senior.

DIANNA KOENIG

Fourth runner-up, Dianna is a senior.

At the fashion show, sponsored by the home economics department, not only are there many different fashions modeled by their creators, but also everyone enjoys a slight take-off on the teachers.

Linda Gillis, Ann Vick, and Patsy Rowland model the winning dresses which they made.

Events of Spring

At the band banquet held at the Roma Country Club, dancing, good food, and a wonderful time are the main items on the agenda.

Diane Buckelew and Andy Smith are especially enjoying themselves.

TOP ROW (L-R) Robert Dawson, Walter Mims, Wayne Turner.
SECOND ROW: Frank Olvey, Jack Traffenstedt, Bobby Gardiner.
These boys, along with the infielders, have hit the ball very well this year.

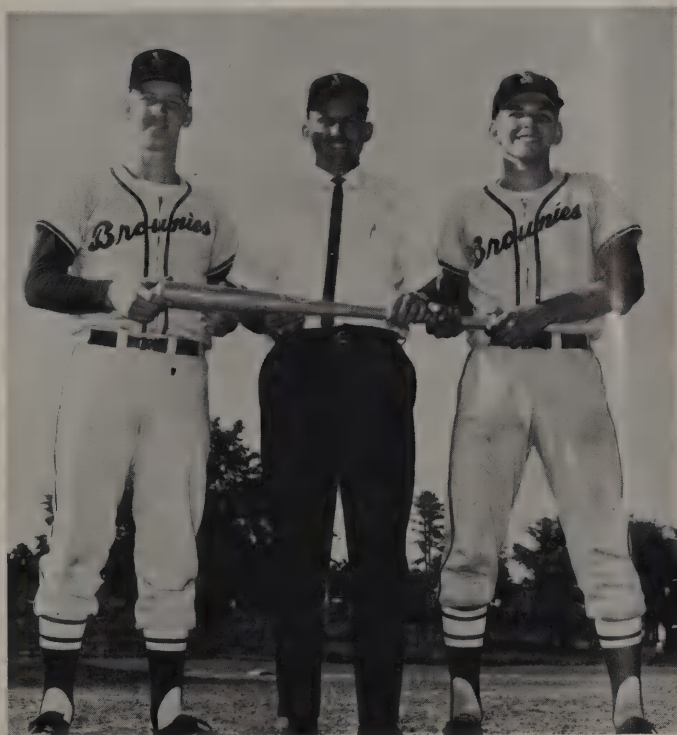

INFELDERS

(L-R) Johnny Cargile, Tommy Stafford, Larry Lancaster, Jimmy Whitten. These boys worked hard on their fielding and it helped.

MOUND STAFF
(L-R) Johnny Green,
Buddy Nick, Kenny
Tatum, Mike Hays.
High points of the pitching staff are the earned run averages
of Kenny Tatum
(1.572) and Buddy
Nick (1.724).

J.V. Ranks High in Tourney

Despite a divided team (half at Jones Valley and half at Phillips), Coach Syphurs and co-captains Kenny Tatum and Buddy Nick have led Jones Valley to an outstanding season with their leadership.

Louise Arthur shows her happiness at being chosen "Miss Congeniality" in the beauty contest.

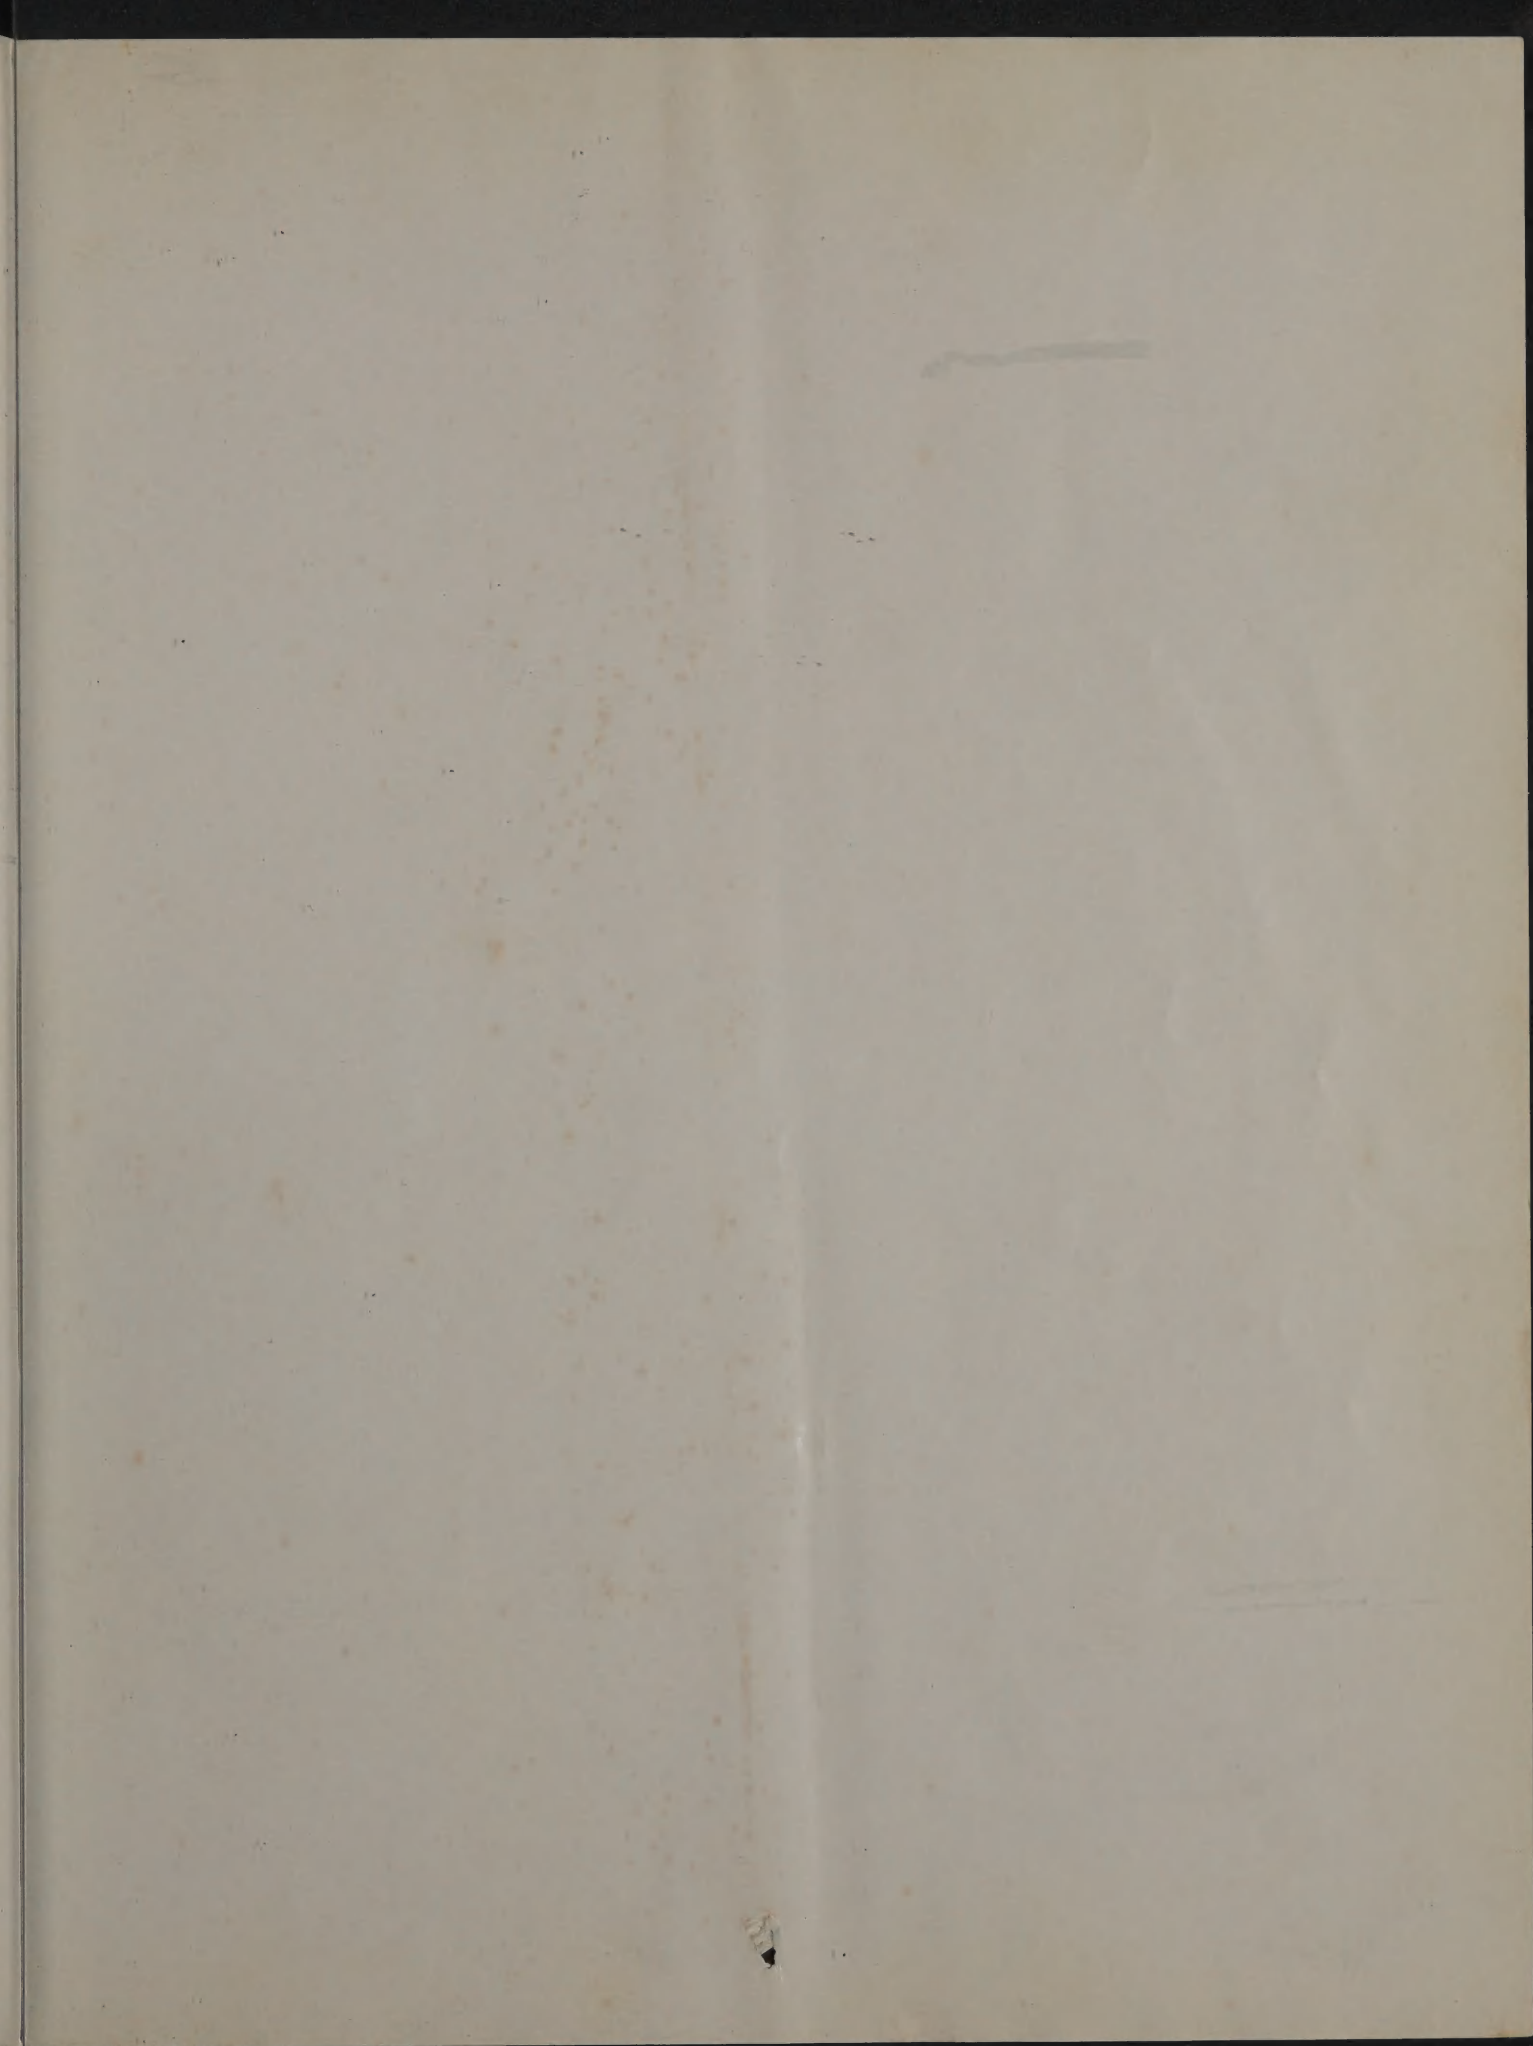

"Miss Brownie" is the title won by freshman Kay Brown. Kay is a B Team cheerleader.

So Ends 1962

a year of hard work, of happiness, of heartbreaking and humorous situations - a divided yet a united student body - a year of waiting and hoping until we heard that the total amount in the building fund is $113,655.49, which means that -
